

VICTORIA

ASCI NETWORKING
BREAKFAST SERIES 2019

22 MAY

e-Commerce and its effects on logistics

Consumers' growing need for greater choice, quality, availability and delivery of goods is challenging traditional supply chains. In the coming years, supply chains will evolve from linear models to responsive and dynamic ecosystems, capable of catering to complex consumer demand while fulfilling a multitude of business objectives.

This is the prediction set out by CBRE's latest white paper "Next Generation Supply Chains Shaping A New Era of Industrial & Logistics Real Estate" which will be presented at this event by Christine Miller, Head of Supply Chain at CBRE, followed by a panel discussion to address:

- Changes being driven in supply chain objectives
- Influences for today's market and the impact being felt
- Future distribution and logistics infrastructure - what does that look like

Panellists yet to be confirmed.

Each event is "ASCI Endorsed" and is awarded half a CPD point

WHEN 7.30-9.30am Wednesday 22 May 2019
ADDRESS Michael Page, Level 19, 600 Bourke St, Melbourne
COST Free for ASCI's Members and their guests
$25 for Non Members

Registration

✉ events@asci.org.au

